

Shipping Information

When sending your microphone to me make sure that you put your name, address, phone number, and Email address inside the box along with your microphone.

If your microphone is a tube microphone and requires a power supply make sure that you also send the supply and cable.

Many of my clients purchase the return label at the time that they ship their microphones to me and put that inside the box along with their microphones. That way we don't need to worry about the return shipping.

My turn around time is usually within 1 week and when the repairs are done I will contact you and you can either send me a check or money order, or you can pay me through PayPal for a few dollars more due to PayPal fees. A lot of my clients prefer to use PayPal because they can use a credit card and it is faster.

You can send the microphone. to the below address. Please feel free to call me if you have any questions.

Thank you for contacting me.
